COLUMBUS CARMEN ARE ON A STRIKE

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—Columbus awoke this morning to find an unexpected strike of motormen and conductors on its street car lines. Thousands of workers, who were forced to walk or ride to work on wagons and trucks, were late in reaching their work.

The union men stated the strike had been called to obtain better working conditions and higher pay, but their demands were not made public today. They said the strike of the motormen and conductors was not in sympathy with striking linemen of the street car company.

However, union men said things came to an issue between the men and the company yesterday when the men refused to run cars under broken trolley wires required by non-union linemen. They claim one man was discharged for not taking a car under such a break. No statement was forthcoming from the company.

After the last owl cars had been run into the car barns, the company made an attempt to operate cars on the regular day schedule. Interurban cars entered the city as usual.

The street car motormen and conductors announced that they had made the following demands upon the Columbus Railway Power and Light Company:

Back pay granted them by the war labor board more than a year ago.

Restatement of John H. H.

meter reader, whose case the war board refused to consider.

Closed shop.

Eight hour day.

Fifty-five cents an hour for first three months and 60 to 65 cents for the next two months.

Union men said the real cause of the strike was an alleged breaking of a contract on the part of the company by refusing to arbitrate differences. An agreement signed a year ago called for arbitration, they said.

Mayor George J. Karp and the chamber of commerce were busy trying to bring about a settlement of the strike. The rail-light company made no effort to operate cars with non-union employees. No statement was made by the company.

Motormen and conductors now receive from 41 to 45 cents an hour. Later it became known that the union demands upon the company called for wage increases to power plant men, boiler, carriage hands, track drivers, boiler repairers, trouble shooters, meter testers, track laborers and other employees.

The strikers declared that employees in the company's power plants which supply electric current to most of the homes in the city and to many of the larger manufacturing plants and business houses, may go out also. Many business concerns were making preparations to obtain current from the municipal light plant.

HAIR THIEF

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—Columbus police are confronted with the problem of ridding down a "hair thief."

Returning from school, Miss William Mosier, age 11, was attacked by a negro who grabbed her by the hair and cut off several inches of her braids. The child screamed, but the negro escaped.

Previously a girl of 15 lost more than a foot of hair when a thief clipped it off her head as she was climbing aboard a street car.

"COMMITTEE IS TRYING TO KILL TREATY ENTIRELY"

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—Declaring the real purpose of the foreign relations committee majority in amending the peace treaty was to kill the treaty entirely and that such a course would be suicidal to the United States, Senator Mitchell, of Nebraska, Democratic leader, asserted in a Senate speech today that the majority of the committee never would accept any of the committee changes.

The treaty opponents, he said, "crawl on the ground with a microscope searching for pitfalls" in the League of Nations and overlook substantial benefits which the treaty would bring the nation.

The proposal of Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, that the treaty be rejected and a separate peace made with Germany was characterized by the speaker as an insane "mixture of patriotism and folly."

"By a vote of nine to eight," said Senator Mitchell, "the committee on foreign relations is to bring squarely before the Senate the question of defeating the peace treaty. Suppose the Senate should vote in favor of the Shantung amendment or any other amendment, what would happen? Either the president would refuse to go further with the treaty, or he would submit the amendment to the nations associated with the United States. Does any one believe they would accept it? Does any one believe that Great Britain, who has already ratified the treaty and is also under a pledge to Japan with regard to Shantung, would accept the Shantung amendment? Does any one think that France, also under a pledge to Japan, would ratify this change? Does any one suppose that Japan herself would submit to this humiliation before the eyes of the world?

"I cannot conceive of any intelligent and capable man who would do some such a thing as a possibility. We would be met by an instant refusal to accept the amendment, and then where would the United States find itself in this international settlement? We would find ourselves out in the cold, isolated from the rest of the world. The work of ratifying the treaty would be without use.

"The treaty itself provides that when three nations in addition to Germany have signed, it shall go into effect. It is easy to see the enormous benefits which Great Britain and France will derive from this treaty. They will not take any chances. It is preposterous to suppose that Japan will delay its ratification. The result is beyond all question.

"What then will the United States do? Some say that Congress can pass a joint resolution declaring a state of peace with Germany. Others say the United States can negotiate a separate and independent treaty. Those who say this way evidently have no conception of the enormous benefits which the United States derives from this treaty."

MERE YOUTH IN CONGRESS

Mr. and Mrs. King Swope.

Representative King Swope, of Kentucky, a returned war hero, is the first Republican in twenty years to represent the Eighth Kentucky district in Congress. He celebrated his twenty-sixth birthday after his election. Mrs. Swope will prove a charming acquisition to congressional social circles.

WARRANTS FOR CINCINNATI MARKET MEN

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3.—Warrants for the arrest of the managers of the Sheriff Street Market House and the Brandt Cold storage firm, were being prepared by the attorney general's office today. It is understood that other affidavits may be issued. The affidavits charging violations were made by inspectors of the state dairy and food department.

STEEL MEN TO DISCUSS DEFENSIVE ACTION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—"Defensive action" in the controversy between the steel workers and the United States Steel Corporation will be discussed at a meeting here tomorrow of the special committee of the steel workers' council, Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, was advised today of the calling of the meeting by Secretary Foster of the committee.

The telegram said all members of steel workers along the Monacaht valley, Pennsylvania, had been prohibited and that speakers at meetings at McKeesport, Pa., had been arrested and that in view of this further defensive action by the workers was imperative.

SHOT BY BEGGAR

CONSUMPTIVE, O., Sept. 3.—D. M. Brown, 45, wealthy banker and real estate operator, was probably fatally shot by a beggar when he discovered in his home early today. Brown is one of the most prominent business men of Ashland county. He is a civil war veteran.

TOWN REMAINS AUSTRIAN

PARIS, Sept. 3.—Only one change from the original territorial terms of the Austrian peace treaty appears in the final draft of that document, submitted to the Austrian plenipotentiaries at St. Germain yesterday. The alteration is in the case of the town of Breda, in the Marburg, Lahn, southwest of Hildesheim, remaining Austrian, although the town is attached to Dutch territory.

Wilson Sets Dates For Conference Of Labor, Capital, Farmer Interests; Will Start On Tour Of Nation Tonight

WILL BE GUESTS AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium will arrive in Washington about October 1, and will be guests of the president and Mrs. Wilson at the White House, probably remaining three days.

The king and queen will arrive in this country late this month and will come directly to Washington to visit the president and Mrs. Wilson before beginning a tour of the country.

It was learned today that the tentative itinerary provided for their return to New York and Washington for a public reception. Afterwards they will leave on a journey that will carry them to the Pacific coast. The dates which will be visited enroute have not been determined.

SENATE MAY GET TREATY THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—With only one amendment moved upon and with only a few witnesses remaining to be heard, coupled with the announcement by Chairman Lodge that each witness would be held to the time limit allotted him, belief of some members that the Senate foreign relations committee might report on the treaty before the end of the week today was strengthened. The committee planned today to hear the treaty views of Swedish representatives.

It was considered likely that the committee would take up the amendment offered by Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, under which the labor clauses in the treaty would be eliminated. This is the last of the amendments proposed in committee.

MAYSVILLE WOMAN IS SELECTED

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 3.—Miss Alice Lloyd, of this city, a recognized leader in the Kentucky Equal Rights Association, has been selected by that organization in place of Mrs. Dehaene, president of the organization, who is to represent the organization at the Democratic state platform convention in Louisville today.

The Equal Rights Association is holding a representative to the convention because of the selection of Miss Laura Clay as a delegate to the convention. Miss Lloyd will oppose the nomination of a plank in the Democratic platform for the ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, she being the official antagonist, favoring the state handling the suffrage question and opposing the question as a national issue.

Miss Lloyd will offer arguments favoring the ratification of the federal amendment.

PEACE TREATY RATIFIED BY NEW ZEALAND

WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND, Tuesday, Sept. 2.—The peace treaty with Germany was unanimously ratified today by parliament after members of the labor party had opposed the pact.

MOUNTAINEER OLDEST MAN IN THE WORLD

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 3.—John Shell today observed his one hundred and thirty-first anniversary of his birth here. He is from Leslie county mountaineer. He declared to newspaper men he never expected to see another birthday. "I am getting old now," was his explanation. Shell was visited by hundreds of people, with all of whom he shook hands and said he was glad to see them. He held an impromptu reception in his room at the Phoenix Hotel. He was happy today, but very frankly admitted that he was afraid of autos. He took his first motor car ride today. Everything is being done here to make the oldest man in the world comfortable. He says this is the first birthday he can remember when he did not work, and said he wanted to get back home and look after his farm, on which there is a mortgage. He expects to pay off his mortgage soon, as he has a tent at the Blue Grass fair here, where a small admission fee is charged so he will not ask anybody to help him. He received many presents today. He is particularly warm in his welcome to women.

BOLSHEVIKI ROUTED; SUING FOR PEACE

EARLY END OF ACTORS' STRIKE, WITH VICTORY FOR STRIKERS, IS PREDICTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Settlement of the actors' strike within 24 hours, was confidently predicted today by members of the Actors' Equity Association. While no formal announcement was forthcoming this morning from either the managers or the officials of the actors' association, those who believed the end of the controversy was at hand based their hopes on a report that the managers' association by a vote of 35 to 6 decided last night to accept recognition to the Actors' Equity Association, the principal point at issue, and that the Actors' Fidelity League, the rival to the Equity Association, had temporarily ceased its campaign for membership.

George M. Cohan, of the Presiding Managers' Association, and Frank Gilmore, secretary of the Equity Association, each predicted last night that important developments were at hand which would terminate the strike, but neither told what those developments were. Meanwhile the managers have announced the re-opening of five theatres within a few days "strike or no strike."

BERLIN ENTERS A DENIAL

BERLIN, Tuesday, Sept. 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The foreign office has denied a report, attributed to the American press to the effect that England, France, and Italy have recently agreed with Germany that the latter will procure raw materials and finished products from only those three countries.

Information has been received from Wilhelmstrasse that "such an agreement is neither in existence nor contemplated," and that "the obvious purpose of the report was to create American business men arriving in Germany in increased numbers to investigate conditions and to resume commercial relations."

PERSHING'S "OWN" SERVE AS GUARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—General Pershing's "own," the famous picked regiment which represented the American army in the victory parades in Paris and London, will serve as guard of honor for the commander of the American expeditionary force when he leads the parade of the first division in both New York and Washington.

GENERATIONSHIP FOR PERSHING

WASHINGTON—1919, conferring permanent rank of general upon Pershing, now goes to president, as both houses have passed it.

There were a lot more squirrels killed around feeders last night than were actually killed today. Here's some more hunting weather:

The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 81; low, 48.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The conference between labor, capital and agriculture interests called by President Wilson for discussion of the present economic situation, will be held in Washington October 9 and 10, it was learned today at the White House.

The president wrote today to the chamber of commerce of the United States, representatives of the leading agricultural associations, investment bankers and to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asking that they submit nominations for delegates representing each group. After receiving the list, the president will then select a list of his own and combine the two.

Forty or forty-five delegates will be chosen.

Preliminary arrangements for the conference were discussed at yesterday's cabinet meeting and it was said at the White House that the full list of delegates probably would be ready within a week.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Wilson in a final conference today with Senator Mitchell, of Nebraska, before his departure on his speaking tour to the Pacific coast expressed confidence that the treaty finally will be ratified without amendments or "destructive" revisions.

The president told Senator Mitchell that in all of his addresses during his trip he expected to emphasize that delay in ratification was obstructive of legislation on the cost of living, the railroad problem and all reconstruction problems.

Senator Mitchell, who is the leading spokesman for the administration in the treaty fight in the Senate, told the president he was positive all amendments to the treaty would be defeated. The president, the senator said, expressed satisfaction with what he believed was a "clean cut issue" over amendments.

Senator Mitchell said the president in his addresses planned to "take" the treaty and especially the League of Nations covenant in detail.

"He feels that, although there has been considerable debate in the Senate, that the people should really know what is in the treaty."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Wilson will leave the national capital tonight on his speaking tour of the country to urge before the American people early ratification of the peace treaty and its League of Nations covenant by the Senate without qualifying reservation.

The first stop of the presidential special will be at Columbus, Ohio, where the president will deliver the first of his scheduled thirty addresses Thursday.

Before leaving tonight, the president planned to issue invitations to laborers, farmers, manufacturers and farmers to attend a conference for the consideration of pending industrial problems. He also hoped, it was said, to complete all arrangements for the conference so that it may be held immediately upon his return at the end of this month.

President Wilson will be accompanied on his trip by Mrs. Wilson, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's personal physician and Secretary "Sammy." A corps of stenographers, secret service men and some thirty press representatives also will be included in the party.

Although the itinerary calls for thirty set speeches in the principal cities of the west, it is believed the president also will be compelled to deliver many short platform addresses at smaller towns along the route.

BEST SHEET MUSIC
When a person reaches the age of 45 the stomach is apt to be balky. But W. A. Martin, Indianapolis, Va., tells a story interesting to old and young. "For years I suffered from indigestion and constipation. After taking all kinds of medicines, I was told by a friend to try Dr. Parker's Treatment for Indigestion and Constipation, saying he would himself refund my dollar if I did not get relief. The first box gave the relief I had been hunting for years. I am no longer bothered with your stomach, gas and foul breath, can eat any food although I am now 45 years old."

NOW IS A GOOD TIME TO DRIVE OUT CATARRH

It May Not Be Troubling You During the Warm Weather, But It Is Still In Your Blood.

Don't be misled into thinking Catarrh is gone. The first touch of winter weather will bring it back with all of its discomforts.

The blood is laden with the Catarrh germs, which direct their attack against the tender and delicate membranes of the nose and throat. These germs cannot be reached by sprays or douches, which, of course, have no effect whatever upon the blood.

Mild weather will aid the treatment, and this is an excellent time to thoroughly cleanse the blood of the germs of Catarrh and be forever rid of the troublesome sprays and douches that can only relieve you for the time.

S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, made from roots and herbs direct from the forest, which combat promptly the disease germs or impurities in the blood. This great remedy has been used for more than fifty years, with most satisfactory results. It has been successfully used by those afflicted with even the severest cases of Catarrh. It relieves catarrh by treating the disease at its source. S. S. S. is sold by druggists everywhere.

For the benefit of those afflicted with catarrh or other blood diseases, we maintain a medical department in charge of a specialist skilled in these diseases. If you will write us fully, we will give you our own individual case requires. No charge for writing very difficult. To get rid of these distressing effects Swift Specific Co., 414 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Attention, Mothers!
Now that school days have arrived it behooves you to see that your boy is well shod. Many months ago I contracted for boys' shoes but didn't receive them until a short time ago. When I contracted for these shoes I decided to sell them for two-thirty-five for the big boys' (2 1-2 to 5 1-2) and two dollars for the smaller sizes; and that's the price as long as they last—which can't be long at this price. This particular lot is gun metal buttons, made on a good, full toe last that gives the toes plenty of room.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS

FOR SUNBURN, TAN

Try It! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

and dark hair. Do you think I am pretty? What will take the cream stains out of blue silk, and also how long must a girl 16 years old wear her dresses? How should they fix their hair?

LONESOME EDNA. You neglected to tell me that your nose was perfectly formed, that your skin was smooth and delicately colored, that your lips were red, and evenly cut, and that your teeth were perfect. Therefore I cannot say whether you are pretty or not. If the dress is of light blue silk, the staly will come out with ivory soap and warm water. If dark blue, use either or chloroform. Wear your dress to your shoe tops. Fix your hair in a becoming, girlish manner.

Dear Dolly Wise—What do you think of a fellow who goes past my house every day and waves at me. Do you think he likes me?

CARLE MAY. I think he wants the exercise. It is all right for you to wave back if he knows you. He probably likes you or he would not waste his energy on you.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please give me the names of the leading literary papers in Akron and Springfield, Ohio.

READER. The "News" and "Sun" are the leading papers of Springfield. The "Times,"

Dear Miss Wise—I read the paper every night and want some advice. I am 16 years of age and have dark eyes.

Dear Dolly—When will the Apple Show at Ironton be? What is the fare to Ironton by train, by traction?

STRANGER. The Ironton Apple Show will be held Sept. 9-13, inclusive. It was held during the week of Sept. 10, in 1917. The fare from New Boston to Ironton, is 35 cents by traction. It is 35 cents one way by train.

Dear Dolly—There are two girls 11 years of age, and have just learned to wait. Do you think we are too young to wait?

A. B. C. No, but you are too young to go to dances.

"WANTING TO KNOW"

Nearly all of the Army of Occupation are back. The First Division is yet to come. He has probably been transferred as the 5th Division came over in July.

Both are good, but high shoes are the more popular. The new skirts will be wider and not so long.

Dear Dolly—Are moving pictures hard on the eyes? I find mine feel queerly, and sort of strained after seeing a film.

THANK YOU. Much has been said pro and con on this subject. Opinion is divided. However, a local optician told me positively that they were hard on the eyes.

Dear Dolly—A boy friend recently gave me a valuable gold purse for a birthday present. Should I have accepted it? We are not engaged.

JEANNE. It is not considered proper for a girl to accept anything valuable from a man, thereby putting herself under obligations to him. Flowers, books and candy are the only things that should be accepted.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a girl 16 years of age and there is a fellow I think a lot of. He writes to me all the time but doesn't come to see me often. Do you think he likes me, and should I answer the letters he writes me?

FULLERTON GIRL. I don't see why he should write to you, or you should answer his letters. If you live in the same place, or near enough to each other that he could come to see you if he cared to.

Discouraged Wife—If you cannot affect a reconciliation with your husband, you had best stay with your mother. You are entitled by law to your personal belongings, and a portion of his property. Do not be afraid of him and demand your rights. Would advise you to see a lawyer.

Dear Dolly—Is there any place in the city where I can sell my hair combs?

DOT. I understand that there are several places in Portsmouth where hair switches are made. These people are always glad to buy good combs. I cannot print addresses, and if you do not know of such a place you had better advertise your hair in the For Sale columns.

The Father Tells How Two Bottles of Nerve-Worth Made Her Over.

A staid, Nerv-Worth claim is this—that Nerv-Worth "blossoms equally the weak and failing child, the worn-out veteran, and man and woman of all ages." Below is clear proof of the first part of that proposition. It comes from a highly esteemed farmer, who lives on Route 3, Piquette, O.

Nerv-Worth Company—My little daughter, Edna, is nine years old. She has been troubled with stomach and bowel trouble for the past three years, and as we have tried a number of remedies without finding one that would help her we had almost given up hope of finding any relief for her when we heard of Nerv-Worth. She has taken two bottles and has been getting better and better since the first day she started to take Nerv-Worth. She has gained three pounds in weight, is now cheerful, and we have hope of her recovery.

Aurora Mardiganian herself, in "Auction of Souls"

Turkish Atrocities Allow Only One Girl of 500,000 to Escape to Relate Story. Pretty Aurora Mardiganian, Eighteen-Year-Old Armenian Girl Is Only Survivor—Her Sensational Experiences Visualized in "Auction of Souls" at The Columbia Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

To be the sole survivor of 500,000 Christians sacrificed in the months which followed a faithful day in 1915 is the experience of Aurora Mardiganian, the leading character in "Auction of Souls," to be presented at the Columbia Theatre tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Not Yet A Woman. Miss Mardiganian is an Armenian girl not yet arrived at the age of womanhood, who was the daughter of a prosperous Armenian, living in a fertile valley not far from Mt. Ararat at the time the Turks decided to steal the lands and property of the Armenians by using the pretext that they were under Russian protection.

Miss Mardiganian, a very pretty girl, had been eyed for some time by a Turk who wished to marry her. This man offered protection to her family if her father would turn her over to him. The father refused and was killed before the eyes of his daughter. Her brothers and sisters also were killed and Miss Mardiganian was driven from the city with thousands of wretched, terrified refugees who were forced into the desert unprepared for the long tortuous trip which followed.

Eighteen Months of Terror. In the course of the next eighteen months every sort of indignity and cruelty was visited upon the Armenian girl and her faithful friend, Miss Graham, a young English mission-teacher, who tried to save the Mardiganian family and who cast her fortunes with them when unable to do so.

How the Armenians died of thirst in the desert, were struck down by brutal officers, were forced to swim rivers, and to throw away their children to lighten boats, how the girls were hunted of nights by the drunken Turks, how they were sold in the slave market and forced into the harems of Turkish chiefs, all is shown in the picture which is a realistic and astonishing expose of Turkish brutality.

Every detail of it is true. It pictures the story of Miss Mardiganian, and upon the report which was made to the allied governments by Viscount James Bryce, the Englishman who was placed at the head of the commission to investigate Miss Mardiganian's charges of Armenian atrocities.

Never has it been the fortune of a girl to serve her own people as Aurora Mardiganian has done. For once she told her story here to influential people its great lesson was seen and she was urged to do everything in her power to impress the American mind with its seriousness.

So, in addition to writing about her experiences, and speaking of them she went before the motion picture camera and acted them once again, that the sympathy of the hundred million people in America might go out to the Graham, a young English mission-

When William Fox presents his epoch-making film version of "Cleopatra" with Theda Bara as the Queen of the Nile at the Strand tonight, local amusement seekers will see the most sensational and magnificent picture to be shown in a film spectacle of surpassing beauty. "Cleopatra" is the story of the passions of the empress of the Nile. The ancient queen is said to be admirably impersonated by the foremost modern exponent of sinuous roles. The film "Cleopatra" depicts that lady's historical encounters with Caesar and Antony and the meeting of her army and that of Antony with the forces of Octavian. Ancient Rome and Alexandria were created in California, where "Cleopatra" was filmed. The Roman forum was reproduced, and there is shown the death of Caesar. Cleopatra's famous barge scene again moves majestically over the water, and the famous feast of Egypt's queen, those feasts which by their extravagance dazzled the eyes of Caesar and later of Antony, are shown in all their sumptuousness. You can't see yourself to see this wonderful production, the story of which is known in every household. The prices are 25c and 10c.

Ben Franklin's Razor was like his brain

FRANKLIN'S BRAIN—like his razor—was a thing of exquisite balance. And by stropping his brain on other men's minds, he kept it always fresh-edged. So when, at seventy, his country pitted him against Europe's foremost diplomats, his keen intellect and old-fashioned honesty won their victory.

In like manner, his fine old razor was a thing of time-tested virtue—good heft in the hand, right shaving angle on the cheek, practical working length. All that Franklin's razor lacked to make it a perfect shaving tool was the double-edged, guarded blade of the

Mary MacLaren

The Unpainted Woman

HERE is a great picture of one woman's life that every other woman will want to see. The story of a lion-hearted girl whom neither man's deception nor adversity, nor the forces of nature could daunt; a drama as simple as a cambric dress but as full of color as changeable silk. Go see what happened to this wonderful woman when all seemed lost. It's the season's noblest love-story. Now playing.

Mary MacLaren, the American Beauty of the screen will be seen at the Exhibit Theatre tonight in her latest Universal production "The Unpainted Woman." The story tells of a country village; its so-called aristocracy, its snobbery and bitter class distinction; a young wife who unconsciously submits to taunts and virtual ostracism because, though but a hired girl, she dared to marry the son of one of the best families; and later, as a widow, how she through her courage and sweetness of character forces down the barriers and comes into her own. The picture is full of thrilling heart interest and is beyond a doubt the best in which Miss MacLaren has yet appeared. Don't miss it. "The Perils of Thunder Mountain" will also be here tonight.

State Examiner's Report On Service Department Continued

The following is another installment of the state examiner's report on the service department. Other installments will follow in The Times from day to day.

It will be noted in ordinance No. 2390 that one of the provisions stipulated therein is that before any permit can be issued in response to an application, a deposit must be made with the city treasurer, yet notwithstanding such provision it will be seen from the above statement that at the time of our audit there was a total of $87.25 delinquent accounts, a condition which, if the provision of the ordinance had been carefully observed, would not have obtained. It would seem that in the collection of the street restoration permits, the service director has permitted a degree of laxity such as is noticeable in the cemetery and other subdivisions of the department. In the granting of such permits in advance of the receipt of the fee he is not only violating the provisions of the ordinance, which in itself is mandatory, but he is also rendering himself liable for the amount of such accounts. It might be well to state that public business should not be permitted to be conducted on the credit basis, as is the case in certain divisions of the service department, but it should be conducted in the manner as provided, not only by the statutes, but also by the ordinances of the city, that is on a strictly cash basis. Officials should remember that they are in office to safeguard the interests of the city and its inhabitants as a whole, and not to render service for a limited number of such inhabitants. They should also remember that they are in office to enforce the provisions of the law irrespective as to whether such provisions are to their liking. We know of no other city in this state where there is such a laxity as to the collection and deposit of public revenue as in the City of Portsmouth, and we trust that the service director will follow the example of the public revenue collectors in other Ohio cities, and strictly enforce the provisions of the ordinance by abolishing the credit business and substituting instead, a strictly cash basis, and promptly depositing the revenue collected.

By establishing a cash basis, every party so benefited by the issuance of permits will be paying for the value received and it will lessen all possibility of the accumulation of a large number of delinquent accounts, the costs of which, if ultimately not collected, must be borne by the taxpayers of the city at large, thereby entangling them to pay the cost of something from which they received no benefit. We trust that the service director will henceforth comply with the law by requiring all parties to pay in advance.

The same method of keeping time prevails in this subdivision of the department as prevails in the street cleaning and street repairing departments, the work of restoration actually coming under the street repair department. Inasmuch as the same methods prevail in this department, it might be well to state that the same recommendations in regard to the manner of keeping time, as set forth under the sub-heading "Street Cleaning" and "Street Repairing," also apply to the keeping of the time of the employees who are paid from the street restoration fund.

The number of men employed in this department varies according to the amount of work to be done. Through the provisions of ordinance No. 2222, passed September 6, 1910, the wages of the employees in this department was fixed at $2.25 per day, however, the same condition exists relative to wages paid, as obtained in the "Street Cleaning" and "Street Repairing" departments, full particulars of which are set forth in detail under the above sub-heading in this department of the report.

The audit of the pay-rolls disclosed the payment of the following wages in the street restoration department, during the period covered by our audit, without proper provision having been made therefor:

Warrant	Days	Rate	Fixed	Am't.	Am't.

STREET RESTORATION FUND.
The following is a financial statement of the street restoration fund at the close of our audit, September 30, 1918:

RECEIPTS.	1917	1918
Source	May 4-Dec. 31	Jan. 1-Sept. 30
Street Restoration Permits	$256.55	$101.85
Total Receipts	$256.55	$101.85
DISHURSEMENTS	1917	1918
Purpose	May 4-Dec. 31	Jan. 1-Sept. 30
Day-roll Labor	$256.30	$101.02
Gravel		95.07
Sand and Gravel		123.45
Feed		125.00
Refund—Street Restoration Permits		95.11
Total Disbursements	$256.30	$444.65

Balance in Street Restoration Fund, Sept. 30, 1918, $101.85

It will be noted that there was expended for the period covered by our audit $125.09. When questioned relative to the expenditure for feed, the clerk stated that the cost of feeding the horse used by the service department was apportioned among the various subdivisions in which it was used. Inasmuch as the city horse was used in transporting brick and material used in street restoration, we believe it proper to make a proportionate charge of the cost of feed against the said fund, yet we believe that the proportionate charge as made above is excessive according to the amount of work that was done.

In the future it will be necessary to render a finding against the service fund for all such excessive charges, hence, we would advise that hereafter a very careful computation be made of such proportionate charges.

The audit disclosed that there was refunded to parties paying for street restoration permits, during the period covered by our audit, $101.85.

The director of service, when interrogated as to the above refunds, stated that they were all made to parties living on Robinson avenue, which had been partly torn up by the sewer contractor in the installation of a new sewer. The director further stated that himself as the street had already been torn up it was not right to charge for such repairs but it became necessary to collect a fee from all until such a time as the engineer could investigate and ascertain which parties were justly entitled to a refund.

STREET EXTENSION.

June 10, 1918, council passed ordinance No. 1294, providing for the issuance of bonds in the sum of $100,000 for the purpose of providing funds for purchasing or condemning any land necessary for street or highway purposes, and for improving the same or paying any proportion of the cost of such improvement.

The ordinance further provides that the proceeds from sale of bonds shall be placed in the city treasury to the credit of the "Street Extension Fund."

In accordance with the provisions of the above ordinance bonds in the sum of $100,000 were sold and the proceeds placed to the credit of the "Street Extension Fund" during 1918.

The fund has been maintained since said time and the proceeds of bond and property for the purpose of opening and widening streets has been made through warrant of the city auditor upon this fund.

The following is a statement of the street extension fund at the time of our audit:

Clifford And Levernier

Fined And Sent To Jail

"Red" Clifford was convicted on a charge of assault, and "Frenchy" Levernier was found guilty of abusing and resisting an officer at their hearing in police court last night and Mayor Kaps plastered each with a fine of $100, and sent them to jail for 30 days each. On the application of his attorney, Luther Thompson, Clifford was given a stay of execution until his condition improves.

The charges against the two defendants grew out of a lively encounter with Officers Pearl Hickey and Noah Payne on Chillicothe street Sunday night and resulted from the placing of Levernier under arrest for disorderly conduct after he had gone on the warpath and given a man named Ed McKinley, a beating at Wm. Frederick's soft drink emporium.

The testimony was very conflicting, the stories of hardly any two eye witnesses to the affray being alike.

Officer Hickey testified that after he had arrested Levernier, Clifford attacked the scene in a taxi and told Levernier "to go with the officer if he wanted too, but don't go if you don't want too."

Hickey said he then told Clifford to keep out of it and it was then he claimed that Clifford struck him several times and caused him to call for aid and Officer Payne came to his rescue. A general mixup followed, in which the officers used their clubs freely on the heads of the resisting men with telling effect and finally subdued them. Both were locked up.

Clifford said that he was in a taxi and on learning that the police wanted a machine to take Levernier to police headquarters, drove around to the scene of the trouble. He denied making the statement attributed to him by the officers and declared they beat him up without cause or excuse. He asserted that he was urging Levernier to go along with the officer and save trouble for himself.

Clifford charged that after reaching the mayor's office Officer Payne struck him with his fist and Officer Hickey hit him a terrific blow with his mace over his left eye. The officers strenuously denied this statement.

Both defendants appeared in court with their heads swathed in bandages, as mute evidence of the terrible clubbing they received in the encounter.

In passing sentence Mayor Kaps stated he had been thinking seriously of closing the soft drink places on Sunday, and he sounded a warning that if there is any more trouble around those places, he declared he would close them down to force them to close on the Sabbath.

And He Rode Away
An electric runabout driven by Dr. P. J. Kilma and a bicycle collided on Washington street near Sixth late Tuesday afternoon. The boy rider of the wheel turned in front of the automobile and emerged with bruises on his legs. He got to his feet and rode away.

Year Ago Today Allies Made Great Gain In War

One year ago today, the allied forces were beating back the Germans with great force. On Sept. 3, 1918, the British forces made their capture of Lens and Omeant, and celebrated by taking 10,000 Hun prisoners.

It was also just one year ago today that the American troops successfully took Ypres in their first fighting on Belgian soil.

You don't remember this, do you? Yet only one short year has passed since our own boys were joining in the great allied advance. Ammunition, guns, stores, supplies, and men were being dumped into Europe too fast for our minds to grasp the real significance. And all this costing money.

One year ago today, many American homes were breathlessly watching the casualty lists, with a silent prayer that "my boy" be not there. And many boys were there, killed or wounded.

Peace should not be a blind for short sighted eyes; it must be a revelation in Thanksgiving. Show your appreciation of what happened a year ago today by loaning your heart and purse and buy War Savings Stamps. "Finish the Job," September 8-13. "Lord, God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget!"

The boy who was wounded severely a year ago today is asking you to help nurse him back to life and usefulness as a citizen.

Is Backache Wearing You Out?

DOES any little exertion leave you tired and worn? Do you feel weak, nervous, "all unstrung"? Do you suffer daily backache, dizziness, and sick headache? You shouldn't! Too many folks drag along day in and day out, thus handicapped. And too often they overlook the kidneys which are likely at fault. Weak kidneys cause many queer aches, pains and kidney irregularities. But, if taken in time, kidney ills are usually easily corrected. Neglected, even a slight kidney weakness may turn into gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease. Don't wait! You owe it to yourself to get well and to stay well. Use DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS! Doan's have brought thousands of weak, tired, discouraged people back to health. Portsmouth folks tell the story. ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR!

These Are Portsmouth Cases:

TENTH STREET

Mrs. A. E. Kennett, 1125 Tenth St., says: "When I was doing my work, sharp pains caught me in the small of my back and I sometimes would fall to the floor helpless. For three or four days I would be in bed suffering with terrible pains. I couldn't turn over or sit up and I was so sore and lame I didn't want anyone to touch me. The last attack I had I suffered that way about two weeks before a friend advised me to get Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's helped me right away and when I had used two boxes my backache and other trouble was gone and I could go about my work again feeling fine."

SEVENTH STREET

W. M. McLeod, 2203 Seventh St., says: "The first symptoms of kidney trouble in my case was backache. I was chopping wood one day when a stitch took me in the small of my back and I had to be helped into the house. The kidney secretions were sandy and turned to gravel. I also noticed that they were not passing like brick dust. I treated with six packages and used many medicines with no results. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills helped me a great deal and by the time I had finished three boxes I was cured. That cure has lasted for over five years."

GALLIA STREET

James Hughes, prop. bicycle shop, 2125 Gallia St., says: "My back was so lame I could hardly bend over at work, because when I got such sharp pains would catch me in my back that I would have to sit still for several minutes. My kidneys acted too often, and the secretions were sandy and of a reddish color. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Flood & Blakey Drug Store and they gave me fine relief!" (Statement given October 22, 1911.)

AGAIN PRAISES DOAN'S

On August 10, 1917, Mr. Hughes said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble and I am glad to praise them again. I can't say too much for Doan's."

JEFFERSON STREET

Mrs. C. A. Burr, 220 Jefferson St., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a number of years and they never failed to do me a lot of good. I think the last attack was about two years ago. My kidneys were surely giving me trouble. My back pained me severely and I had a dull, nagging ache in it. It was all I could do to keep up. When I bent over it seemed as though my back would break. I was sometimes so dizzy I nearly fell to the floor and I was in poor health in every way. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in the paper and I decided to give them a trial, and began using them. After I had used one box my kidneys were acting right and my backache was gone."

EIGHTH STREET

Mrs. Joseph Billan, 627 Eighth St., gave the following statement October 14, 1911: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a bad case of kidney complaint several years ago and I haven't had any return of the trouble. I have advised scores of people to try Doan's and they have always, as far as I know, done good work. One of my children had an attack of kidney trouble, too, and Doan's Kidney Pills fixed her up in five days."

NEARLY THREE YEARS LATER, on August 10, 1917, Mrs. Billan said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a bad case of kidney trouble and I have great faith in them. Doan's have done a lot of good for others in my family, too."

No package of Doan's Kidney Pills is complete unless it bears the purple leaf trade mark and the signature—James Doan.

JUST A BIT OF SURPLUS

PLANs are all laid for "Finish-The-Job" Week, which will dawn next Monday. May be you haven't heard what "Finish-The-Job" Week is. Well, if you haven't, it is time to hear and get interested.

In a sense it is like that of which we heard so much during the war and so proudly acquired ourselves in response—each citizen doing his part and each county coming up to its quota.

The bills for bringing the boys back home are not all paid yet. The government needs the money to make complete settlement. It proposes to raise this through the sale of savings stamps throughout the entire year. So far Scioto county has done at the best only fair in offering her quota. So in round numbers she has yet five hundred thousand dollars' worth of stamps to sell. It is proposed to go at selling this amount with old time vigor and finish the job in a week.

It would be fine to do it that way and it can be done readily enough if each one helps. Savings stamps run anywhere from twenty-five cents to a thousand dollars, so every one can easily do his bit whether it be little or big.

Outside that the government has laid a scheme by which every one can do his duty, and show appreciation of the noble fight and sacrifice put up by our boys, it seems idle to speak of the desirability of buying savings stamps. Let us say just one thing then concerning them: An investment. They are worth their face value and interest any time and all the time. They are unusual in that they present the highest possible form of security, and when a citizen buys them to the extent of his ability he not only discharges his obligation as such, but he benefits himself. Interest bearing, non-taxable investments are going to be scarce hereafter.

AND SO LITTLE REQUIRED

PIKES county is not doing credit to herself in allowing her main roads to be in such bad condition as they are, especially when they could be put in good condition at so little cost.

The road from Piketon to the Scioto bridge on to the Richmond pike is sadly in need of repairs, being one long stretch of ruts and holes. But bad as it is it is not a comparison to the disreputable condition that the Piketon bridge across the Scioto has been allowed to fall into and remain. The floor of this structure is a complete stretch of broken and splintered planking, the jagged edges being destruction to tires. We know because we had a new tire pierced by them. Our experience was not any more happy in making the rough pike as two more tires collapsed under the strain, and we saw a number of other automobiles that appeared to have met with about the same experience.

Of course, Pike county has no large cities to furnish it with a heavy assessment, but it has many fine farms, which would be enhanced in value and desirability by better roads and they could well afford to pay more taxes therefor.

It is accepted nowadays, without contention, that good roads are the best investment a community can make; certainly no county can afford the cost of ill repute that comes with a bridge like that which we have mentioned.

THE WISHING PLANE

BY WILLIS WINTER

After Sir Sprigg had finished telling the story of Sergeant Yost, Signor Angelo invited everyone to take a ride in his auto. The two guides, Lema and Balpo, said they would have to return home, so they said goodbye to everyone, promising to go up the mountains with the children again before Jack and Jane left Switzerland. The other folks and Jack and Jane and Balpo—gathered themselves in the leg.

"The children had seen many autos back in Lake Belvedere town that they thought were wonderful, but this one was more wonderful than ever. It was big enough to hold Jack and Jane, Ladydair, Captain Dave, Signor Angelo, Sir Sprigg and the other four—there were three—without crowding anyone. The car was a light gray and the cushions that lined the floor and the seat were a soft gray leather. The car was in front—the part that covers

Then they drove along the edge of the lake beside which the city was built.

"Lacorne might now belong to Austria and there might have been no Switzerland now but for a little boy who slipped down to the lake one night many hundreds of years ago to battle," said Signor Angelo as the auto ran along the lake shore.

He said that the children were waiting for him to tell them all about the boy, so he said:

"Five or six hundred years ago Austria was trying to take possession of Switzerland. Part of their plan, at one time, was to capture Lacorne and having taken the city and made prisoners of all the men in it, capture the district around it.

"One of the men living in Lacorne turned traitor and offered to help the Austrians capture the city—his own city.

"Well, one night just at that time a little boy named Peter, tired from his day's work in the fields, went down to the shore of the lake near the city to swim and wash himself. After he had swam about for a long time he dressed and laid down on the beach. In a little while he heard some men walking through the woods back of him. They were talking and he could tell that they were planning to capture the city. He could tell, too, by their voices that they were Austrians. So he determined to follow them.

"The first post was at the Papal Court of Rome. When he began his career, Austria ruled in Italy, the Pope ruled in Rome. Three years before that he had been present at the coronation of Emperor Ferdinand I. of the Hapsburgs, a monarch of Italy too.

"When Milan rose against the Austrians he was at Stockholm. He then left the Austrian service, becoming a subject of the King of Sardinia. The Greppi are of an old Milanese family. His diplomatic career ended thirty-one years ago when he left the post of ambassador at St. Petersburg. He had been in diplomatic posts in London, Berlin, Athens, Constantinople, St. Petersburg, Munich and Madrid, where he was Italian minister in 1911.

"He has known personally most of the great people in politics and society during the past eighty years. As a young man he knew Marie Louise of Parma, and he met the Duke of Wellington when he was a mature diplomat. He knew all the kings and queens of a social world which is now extinct as the dodo. He danced in the royal court of Naples, dined on the ship that took Napoleon's remains from St. Helena to Paris.

"The count was made by Italian-born in 1891. He is not rich but, has fortune enough to live in quiet luxury. Though he has had proposals by the score he has never married.

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—

For the life of me,
I cannot understand.
Why New York has so many:
Bored looking women,
You are them riding,
Around in carriages,
And chauffeurs,
In the public parks,
And on the avenue,
And at the opera,
And their main business,
In life, it seems,
Is just to look bored.
And they are generally
Fatter than all get-out,
And they are daubed,
And smeared with paint,
And carry loggnettes,
And the few janes,
That they try to smile,
You would think,
They had just tasted,
A sour fish or something,
And when they see,
A pretty young girl,
They lift their loggnettes,
As much as to say,
What an awful creature,
And when they meet anyone,
That they have to speak to,
They spit a hissing band,
And look exactly like
They had just swallowed,
A prohibition cocktail,
Made of hair oil,
Bath salts,
Or anything being around,
The old bathroom,
With a touch of alcohol,
Four splashes,
Laying their little day,
Behind leading the blind,
And falling into,
The ditch of bigotry,
If they would just.

WHO'S WHO

IN THE DAYS NEWS

COUNT GREPP

The count of long life is very simple, and that is why people will not follow it. It chiefly consists of "DON'T" marry; "DON'T" live a family life; "DON'T" have children; "DON'T" eat or drink too much; "DON'T" fall in love; "DON'T" worry.

Philosophy of Senator Count Greppi of Milan and Rome, the oldest diplomatist in the world, who completed his 100th year last month, and who still takes an active interest in Italian politics.

Seventy-seven years ago Count Greppi entered the Austrian diplomatic service under Metternich.

His first post was at the Papal Court of Rome. When he began his career, Austria ruled in Italy, the Pope ruled in Rome. Three years before that he had been present at the coronation of Emperor Ferdinand I. of the Hapsburgs, a monarch of Italy too.

When Milan rose against the Austrians he was at Stockholm. He then left the Austrian service, becoming a subject of the King of Sardinia. The Greppi are of an old Milanese family. SOCIETY

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Grace Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Adams, of Grandview avenue, to Ralph Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Peck, of Second street. The marriage of this popular couple took place Monday, September 1, at half after one, at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. BREACH BETWEEN FACTIONS WIDENS IN THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST PARTY IN SESSION

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The breach between the conservative and radical elements of the national Socialist party, in session here, was said to be wider today than at any time since the "left wing" and the "right wing" factions departed from the parent organization to form organizations of their own.

The "two wings" are composed almost wholly of the foreign language, Italian Socialists, and their leaders stated today that there was likelihood of their uniting with the "right wing" element. The latter has organized into the communist party, following a heated discussion over the name that

EARLY END OF ACTORS' STRIKE, WITH VICTORY FOR STRIKERS, IS PREDICTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Settlement of the actors' strike within 21 hours, was confidently predicted today by members of the Actors' Equity Association. While no formal announcement was forthcoming from either the managers or the officials of the actors' association, those who believed the end of the controversy was at hand based their hopes on a report that the managers' association by a vote of 20 to 6 decided last night to accept recognition to the Actors' Equity Association, the principal point at issue, and that the Actors' Equity League, the rival to the Equity Association, had temporarily ceased its campaign for recognition.

George M. Cohan, of the Broadway Managers' Association, and Frank Gilmore, secretary of the Equity Association, each predicted last night that important developments were at hand which would terminate the strike, but neither told what those developments were. Meanwhile the managers have announced the postponing of fire theaters within a few days while or no strike.

NOT MUCH OF A JOB

DISCUSSION is still going on as to whether or not Armenia shall assume a mandatory for Armenia. One advocate, who urges this country to the mandatory remarks:

"What exactly the obligations are which a mandatory for Armenia would have to assume is not yet known with any exactness, but, according to a recent well-informed statement, they would not be unduly onerous. The mandatory, this statement declares, would have to aid the Armenians, in an advisory capacity; to establish a government on a permanent basis; to send to Armenia two, or possibly four, regiments to remain for a brief period in order to exert a steady influence on the native population; to co-operate with the Armenian government in the repatriation of 1,500,000 Armenians; to make provisions for caring for 300,000 or more orphans; to help Armenia, through technical commissions, in the construction of transportation systems, docks and harbors; and to inaugurate modern improvements, including suitable means of sanitation, in its towns and cities.

That is surely lending enthusiasm run away with itself. Not unduly onerous to transport an army thousands of miles, provide it for months, gather up a million and half people from the four corners of the earth, care for 300,000 "or more" orphans—and knowing something of Armenians, we say say there would be several more, yes, several hundred thousand more—help Armenia, through technical commissions—and we also know something about the cost of commissions—construct transportation systems, roads and railways where there are none at all, build docks, create harbors and provide for sanitation in its towns and cities, where they know nothing more about such things than a pig, inaugurate modern improvements, in a word, transform a land!

Why it would cost more than the maintenance of our government. We are a rich people, we are a benevolent people, but we have needs here at home of our own and money seems to be the greatest of all.

A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE TWO

JUDICE Wannamaker, of the supreme court, makes a fervid appeal for respect and observance of the law. To us it seems as if he were making something of a failure here to draw a distinction here between law and right and justice.

Generally speaking the law should be respected and observed, but that is true only of good and wise laws. Sometimes laws are neither good, or wise and have no other quality than foolishness and viciousness.

If there is scantier respect for the law than there should be, this springs from two causes, the lack of desert and the failure to enforce. The law fails of commanding because it creates the rule, designates what penalties shall follow on violation and yet its other creators, public officials, fail to impose the penalty. Nor should they always be held blameless for this as penalizing for infractions would be harsh and unreasonable.

Right and justice should be invariably respected and observed because they have the inherent quality of desert. Failure to observe them does wrong somewhere to some one. Where the law embodies them it of itself becomes right and justice and should be held inviolate as such.

If we had only statutes that carried such embodiment and hundreds less that had no other call to being except the vain and foolish desire of legislators to have their name coupled with some measure in the assembly, there would not be occasion for Judge Wannamaker to make his plea.

Wonder when Columbus is going to quit being a village? All its papers enquire over "the pageant" produced every afternoon of the fair. As a matter of fact the alleged pageant was a sorry spectacle in which appeared a lot of ill-trained and untidily costumed children, who gave a performance that the kids at the headwaters of Twin Creek could beat by several sections.

The Columbus State Journal is sorely puzzled to know what some of its friends are going to do for hating material, when Wilson retires to private life, but it is hopeful some other good Democrat and man will answer the purpose quite as well.

In his social on management and mismanagement of city affairs it strikes as the young author has too many ifs. "If" the same thing occurs again, he tells us poor, suffering tax-payers, innumerable times, something dreadful is going to happen.

Mexico doesn't seem to know Pershing is about to return from France. Leastwise she has chosen a most unpropitious time in view of that event to again become unpretty. "Black Jack" wouldn't need much to finish that job he started out upon a couple of years ago.

Most of the American troops have been returned from Europe but the trained corps of living correspondents seem to have been left behind. May be, though, they were born and trained over there.

That is distressful news we hear from New York. The milliners are going to have four seasons a year instead of two.

Ironton papers say the feature of the Apple Show is going to be the auto display. Then why call it an apple show!

The News says one of the points for a greater Ironton is street cars running to the cemetery. Rather neat way of saying the town stands in need of some first class funerals.

A chap, who claims to be a nephew of Kaiser Bill and gives his native name as Johann Wilhelm von Loewenfeld Brandenburg Hohenzollern has had a Michigan judge give him permission to write it Vaughn Lionell. Sort of a contradiction in that Lionell since he didn't have the courage to carry around the original label.

Yes, sir, it does make all the difference whether a man says what you want him to say or does not. Even at that it is amusing to hear those papers that are most gross in their reference to the President's stand on the league of nations acclamating his utterances on the railroad wage contention as "clear cut, conservative and conciliatory" to say nothing of being conclusive.

THE WISHING PLANE

BY WILLES WINTER

When Sir Sprigg began the story of the machine gunner Jack and Jane sat down on the floor as near to him as they could get and listened to every word.

"Our regiment was at Saratoga, then," said the British officer. "That's somewhere near the center of the British part of South Africa."

"Major Dundon had gone west to the coast on official business and had left me in command of the regiment. I guess the natives knew this and thought it would be a good time to attack us. So, one night, when a great black cloud hid the moon, they just seemed to spring out of nowhere, and there were two or three thousand of them. They killed most of our guards before the guards had time to fire a warning. But the yelling told us what was up."

"We had built a high fence—army folks call it a stockade—out of small tree trunks. This fence ran around our supply houses and the well from which we got our water. So, when we heard the natives our men ran inside the stockade and began firing their rifles and machine guns through holes in the fence. We had plenty of bullets for both our rifles and machine guns at first and made it so hot for the natives that they could not get close enough to the fence to rush over it and kill us. But towards morning I found that our supply of bullets was giving out."

"We can keep them away the rest of the night," said one of the other officers, "but by tomorrow night they'll have twice as many men as they have now. They'll send swift runners back into the hills to bring other tribes, and we won't have enough bullets to stop them."

"We were talking over several different plans of saving ourselves when Sergeant Yest, a man who had been with me through three campaigns in Africa, asked if he might come into the officers' tent. He said word that he had a scheme in mind to help us out."

"When we called him in he said: 'If you'll let me have a machine gun and plenty of bullets for it I'll sure I can help. They aren't going to get another attack tonight and by tomorrow night I'll be ready!'"

"We all tried to get him to explain his plan, but he wouldn't tell a word about it. He was afraid, I guess, that we wouldn't think it so foolish that we wouldn't give him a chance to try it. But we finally decided to let him attempt whatever he had in mind. He was given the best machine gun the regiment had, and half a dozen strings of bullets for it. Then we saw him slip into his tent, not far away, with the outfit. About half an hour later we saw somebody come out of Yest's tent. The somebody looked just like a native black man, and he carried a great bundle on his shoulder."

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—It was 11 o'clock at night. A "show" newspaper sat on his pile of early editions morning papers in Times Square. A policeman looked over "Today's Extra" under a street lamp. A lone figure stood in a dark store. A lone figure stood in a dark store. A lone figure stood in a dark store.

day New York is an amusements. Bapped on the subway, about which O. Henry left deathless literature. Is now Bapped a la Kookak. The lobster restaurant and dance mosques were as empty as an old world cathedral at midnight and as gloomy.

The only flutter of night life is in the coffee houses. On the ruins of the all night bar the Danish and French Vienna bakeries rear their party or party—heads. Customers bring bottles of tobacco for with them. And they try to be happy and sing of the old days when the populace did not

WHO'S WHO

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

PAUL S. REINSCH
Paul S. Reinsch, American minister at Peking, China, has tendered his resignation which is now in the hands of President Wilson. It has been reported that Dr. Reinsch has not been wholly in accord with the administration's attitude toward China at the peace conference but this did not appear in his letter of resignation according to reports.

He studied at the University of Wisconsin and at Paris, Berlin and Rome. He is the author of several works of political science, some of which have been translated into Chinese and Japanese.

It was largely through the assurances of Minister Reinsch that China's interests would be safeguarded by the United States that China was persuaded early in 1917 to enter the world war on the side of the allies. It is also understood that the diplomat was strongly against the Shantung arrangement incorporated in the text of the peace treaty.

He is to be told by a headwaiter to "Whisper to me only with thine eyes." Over on Eighth avenue the night-jacks are selected in a backroom under the bar, draws a beer and creeps back on all fours and whispers in the darkness "But on that evening, you failed!"

"The evolution and decline of night life in New York except in the private clubs and homes—is an amazing spectacle to behold. It is difficult to believe that only a few years ago the cream of the sporting and political blood of the nation gathered in Harry Hill's to while the night away. Or in John Morrissey's house or at the Allen's or Kit Burp's 'condit for gentlemen."

Drap are all the old places where the life of the city ran high. Places like the Reckers, Jack's, the Haymarket, Akron's Tirol, and Mogul's, where the Misses washed their feet in red wine till the day squad of sentinels and canvas detectors arrived for breakfast. Flatbush, Mo., of "Court day" is a scolding cauldron of activity compared to Broadway at midnight.

In a little sawdust eating place on Sixth Avenue, where the stout "flappers" of cheap vaudeville congregated, a trapeze artist and a man who throws knives at a woman standing up against a board were discussing another knife-thrower. It was evident that this knife-thrower was jealous of his rival's ability and finally the knife-thrower made this concession: "Yes, he does throw a good knife!"

The bobbed hair, said is spreading. Mrs. Castle, on account of an illness, started it. Then Nazimova had her hair bobbed, and to add fires to the fire, Mrs. Enrico Caruso had her locks clipped. Half the girls in New York have bobbed hair, it seems. A woman's barber shop has been opened where a head of hair is bobbed for $5 a bob. In the men's shops there is an increasing number of "grown up ladies."

The New Stenographer
I have a new stenographer—she came to work today. Two hundred words a minute seemed to her. I gave her some dictation—a letter to a man, and this as I remember was how the letter ran:

"Dear Sir: I have your favor and in reply would state that I accept the offer in your recent date. I wish to say, however, that under no condition can I afford to honor your free lance proposition. I shall begin tomorrow to turn the matter out. The copy will be ready March the 10th, about. Material of this nature should not be rushed hastily. Thanking you for your favor, I am, yours very truly."

She took it down in shorthand with greatest ease and grace. Thought I, at last I have a girl worth keeping round the place. She didn't call me back, nor jump up in a flurry. I said, "Now write it out, but don't be in a hurry."

"The Hamilton she tackled. She struck the final key, and after thirty minutes 'twas this the handiest me: "Dear Sir: I have the favor, and on a fly I say, and I expect the offer as you have mentioned it. I wish to say, however, that under no condition can I afford to take of your free lance proposition. I shall be in tomorrow to turn the matter out. The copy will be ready March the 10th, about. Material of this nature should not be rushed hastily. Thanking you for your favor, I am, yours very truly."

The Equal Rights Association is sending a representative to the convention because of the selection of Miss Laura Clay as a delegate to the convention. LABORERS, FINANCIERS AND MANUFACTURERS AND FARMERS CALLED INTO CONFERENCE BY WILSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The conference between labor, capital and agriculture interests called by President Wilson for discussion of the present economic situation, will be held in Washington October 9 and 10, it was learned today at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Wilson will leave the national capital tonight for his speech-making tour of the country to urge before the American people early ratification of the peace treaty and its League of Nations covenant by the senate without qualification reservation.

The first stop of the presidential special will be at Columbus, Ohio, where the president will deliver the first of his scheduled thirty addresses Thursday.

Before leaving tonight, the president planned to issue invitations to laborers, financiers, manufacturers and farmers to attend a conference for the consideration of pending industrial problems. He also hoped, it was said, to complete all arrangements for the conference so that it may be held immediately upon his return at the end of this month.

President Wilson will be accompanied on his trip by Mrs. Wilson, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's personal physician, and Secretary Tamm. A corps of stenographers, secret service men and some thirty press representatives also will be included in the party.

Although the itinerary calls for thirty stops in the principal cities of the west, it is believed the president also will be compelled to deliver many short platform addresses at smaller towns along the route.

BREACH BETWEEN FACTIONS WIDENS IN THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST PARTY IN SESSION

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The breach between the conservative and radical elements of the national Socialist party, in session here, was said to be wider today than at any time since the "left wing" and the "right wing" factions departed from the parent organization to form organizations of their own.

The "two wings" are composed almost wholly of the foreign language Socialists, and their leaders stated today that there was likelihood of their uniting with the "right wing" element. The latter has organized the plan of the espionage act, but into the communist party, following a heated discussion over the name that should be bestowed upon the new body. The instance of H. T. Chenoweth of St. Louis, finally prevailed in the selection of a name.

The meeting of communists was thrown into a confusion when delegates arrested Dennis E. Part, reported to be an organizer of the L. W. W., and took him from the hall. They had been searching for him for a week on a charge of making a seditious speech. The offense, it was stated, came under a new state law known as "House Bill Number 200," operative since June 1, which is regarded to be the place of the espionage act. Part was released last night on $1,000 bond for appearance today.

EARLY END OF 'ACTORS' STRIKE, WITH VICTORY FOR STRIKERS, IS PREDICTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Settlement of the actors' strike within 24 hours, was confidently predicted today by members of the Actors' Equity Association.

While no formal announcement was forthcoming this morning from either the managers or the officials of the actors' association, those who believed the end of the controversy was at hand based their hopes on a report that the managers' association by a vote of 29 to 6 decided last night to accept recognition to the Actors' Equity Association, the principal point at issue, and that the Actors' Equity League, the rival to the Equity Association, had temporarily ended its campaign for membership.

George M. Cohan, of the President Managers' Association, and Frank Gilmore, secretary of the Equity Association, each predicted last night that important developments were at hand which would terminate the strike, but neither told what those developments were. Meanwhile the managers have announced they are suspending of fire those within a few days strike or no strike.

It was concluded here that the managers' organization up to next Monday after the strike of Fall, Republican, New Mexico, made which the latter claims to be the treaty would be eliminated. This is the last of the amendments passed in committee.

Could Drink Water.

If among the innumerable beverages of "Monti" times a man could find nothing to quench his thirst, he must have been hard to satisfy. The Pilgrim fathers were much distressed because they were refused to drinking water when they came to the New World. But Higginson, of Salem, proudly told his contemporaries: "I can and oftentimes do drink New England water very well."

MAY PLAY NINE GAMES IN BIG SERIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Because of the unprecedented demand for world series tickets this fall, the National Baseball Commission today recommended that the series be increased to nine games instead of the usual seven. The proposal was sent today to the club owners of the American and National leagues for immediate ratification. Under the proposed plan the rival clubs would share in the receipts of the first five games instead of the first four, as in former years. The victorious team would have to take five of the nine contests to win the world championship. August Herrmann, chairman of the commission, explained that the recommendation was made for no other reason than to benefit the public by permitting a larger number of persons to see at least one of the games. Although the Cincinnati club has not clinched the National league pennant, Chairman Herrmann, who also is president of the Reds, said he had received 25,000 applications for seats outside of Cincinnati. "There are more than 100,000 persons in Cincinnati who want to see the series and it will be an impossibility to accommodate a third of them under the seven game plan," he said. "The city is baseball wild. It seems that the entire south is planning on coming to Cincinnati if we are so fortunate as to win the National league flag."

Bees and Men.
A honey bee, once having lost its temper and used its stinger, becomes useless and soon dies. So it is with human beings, says Keith Clevenger of Osawatomie. Once they are no longer able to control their temper and keep calm under trying circumstances, just so soon they begin to slip and lose their grip on business and usefulness.—Kansas City Star.

JUST A BIT OF SURPLUS

PLANS are all laid for "Finish-The-Job" Week, which will dawn next Monday. May be you haven't heard what "Finish-The-Job" Week is. Well, if you haven't it is time to hear and get interested.

In a sense it is like that of which we heard so much during the war and so proudly acquired ourselves in response—each citizen doing his part and each county coming up to its quota.

The bills for bringing the boys back home are not all paid yet. The government needs the money to make complete settlement. It proposes to raise this through the sale of savings stamps throughout the entire year. So far Scioto county has done at the best only fair in offering her quota. So in round numbers she has yet five hundred thousand dollars' worth of stamps to sell. It is proposed to go at selling this amount with old time vigor and finish the job in a week.

It would be fine to do it that way and it can be done readily enough if each one helps. Savings stamps run anywhere from twenty-five cents to a thousand dollars, so every one can easily do his bit whether it be little or big.

Outside that the government has laid a scheme by which everyone can do his duty and show appreciation of the noble fight and sacrifice put up by our boys. It seems idle to speak of the desirability of buying savings stamps. Let us say just one thing that concerns them as an investment: They are worth their face value and interest any time and all the time. They are mutual, in that they present the highest possible form of security, and when a citizen buys them to the extent of his ability he not only discharges his obligation as such, but he benefits himself. Interest-bearing, non-taxable investments are going to be scarce hereafter.

THE GENERAL IS COMING HOME

GENERAL Pershing sailed from France, Tuesday, and is expected to reach America in about eight days. On his arrival he will find an earnest and enthusiastic welcome and he will also learn that the American congress has done him the signal honor of making him a permanent general of the army.

We wonder, though, if he will find out why his boom for presidential nomination sickened and died. Better than six months ago that boom seemed lusty and growing. Now if it exists at all it is altogether out of keeping with the ways of vigorous infants, failed to make its presence known.

The disappearance of the boom is one of the most curious episodes in the history of American politics. Outside of the fact that General Pershing was a good soldier and a commander who led to quick and rousing victory, there was no special reason, except his popularity, for any party to choose him as its standard bearer, but that was enough. That popularity has not vanished, so far as outward appearances go nothing has occurred to lessen it. Yet, the possessor of it seems to be no longer considered as a possibility in the candidate line.

May be the coteries that attempt to direct such movements have found out that Pershing isn't the man they wanted. They say that over there in France he had "a head of his own." That the English and French wanted "his boys" to play a sort of second fiddle in the fighting but he wouldn't stand for anything like that. His idea was to let Americans fight in their own place and in their own way. That idea won and so did "his boys" the war being over before some great generals had finished their plans.

AND SO LITTLE REQUIRED

PIKE county is not doing credit to herself in allowing her main roads to be in such bad condition as they are, especially when they could be put in good condition at so little cost.

The road from Piketon to the Scioto bridge on to the Richmond Pike is sadly in need of repairs, being one long stretch of ruts and holes. But bad as it is it is not a comparison to the disreputable condition that the Piketon bridge across the Scioto has been allowed to fall into and remain. The floor of this structure is a complete stretch of broken and splintered planking, the jagged edges being destruction to tires. We know because we had a new tire pierced by them. Our experience was not any more happy in making the rough pike as two more tires collapsed under the strain, and we saw a number of other automobiles that appeared to have met with about the same experience.

Of course, Pike county has no large cities to furnish it with a heavy assessment, but it has many fine farms, which would be enhanced in value and desirability by better roads and they could well afford to pay more taxes therefor.

It is accepted nowadays, without contention, that good roads are the best investment a community can make; certainly no county can afford the cost of ill repute that comes with a bridge like that which we have mentioned.

A REASONABLE COMPLIANCE

ANDREW Carnegie, when the world's second richest man, expended an estate in giving away his riches before he died, holding that a man who possesses wealth and benevolence of great sums during his life, died disgraced and his estate was only dross.

In pursuance of this view he proceeded to become a benefactor in an unprecedented degree. His total gifts amounting to over three hundred and seventy million dollars, which was more than twelve times greater than the estate he left behind him.

In the final disposal of his estate he provided himself unnumbered in what he regarded as the best use of wealth. There are no legacies to charity, to hospitals, to hospitals and asylums, but many and many a school, a hospital, a faithful employee and a few girls in college, and benevolent institutions. To his daughter he gave a residence and to his wife between his real estate only, the value of this being estimated at somewhere between five and ten million dollars. Explanations, however, is made in the will that Mrs. Carnegie is provided as fully for as she desires.

And so the sturdy Scotsman closes his account in this world. He was blessed in many things, but most in that he had a wife, who was content with little compared with what she had and of which she might have maintained much, had such been her desire.

A MISUNDERSTOOD WORD

A writer in the New York Herald says "Charivari is evidently Italian and its traditional meaning is that the Charivari is a privileged person endowed by public consent with the office of holding up to ridicule those persons who may be said to have offended the public proprieties."

Neah Webster, who is something of an authority on the meaning of words writes down thus: "Charivari—French—a mock serenade of rude and discordant noises, made with kettles, tin horns, etc., designed to annoy and insult."

Both are wrong, the first entirely, the second partially. Charivari is a French word. It means the French custom of serenading a newly wedded couple, where one thereof had been previously married. There was some rudeness in it, but no insult was intended or given thereby, as shown by the fact that the group was always expected to treat the serenaders.

Our American "belling" is derived from it and, of course, in the way of the usual American adaptation is all too frequently carried to immoderate lengths.

THE WISHING PLANE

BY WILLIS WINTER

After Mr. Spitz had finished telling the lake beside which the city was built.

"Lucerne might now belong to Austria and there might have been no Switzerland now but for a little boy who slipped down to this lake one night many hundreds of years ago to bathe," said Signor Angelo as the auto ran along the lake shore.

He saw that the children were waiting for him to tell them all about the boy, so he said:

"Five or six hundred years ago Austria was trying to take possession of Switzerland. Part of their plan, at one time, was to capture Lucerne and, having taken the city and made prisoners of all the men in it, capture the district around it."

"One of the men living in Lucerne turned traitor and offered to help the Austrians capture the city—his own city."

"Well, one night just at that time a little boy named Peter, tired from his day's work in the fields, went down to the shore of the lake near the city to swim and wash himself. After he had swam about for a long time he dropped and laid down on the beach. In a little while he heard some men walking through the woods back of him. They were talking and he could tell that they were planning to capture the city. He could tell, too, by their voices that they were Austrians. So he determined to follow them."

COUNT GREPPI

His first post was at the Papal Court of Rome. When he began his career, Austria ruled Italy, the Pope ruled in Rome. Three years before that he had been present at the coronation of Emperor Ferdinand I, at the Hapsburgs as monarch of Italy too.

When Milan rose against the Austrians he was at Stockholm. He then left the Austrian service, becoming a subject of the King of Sardinia. The Greppis are of an old Milanese family. His diplomatic career ended thirty-one years ago when he left the post of ambassador at St. Petersburg. He had been in diplomatic posts in London, Berlin, Athens, Constantinople, Stuttgart, Munich and Madrid, where he was Italian minister in 1875.

He has known personally most of the great people in politics and society during the past eighty years. As a young man he knew Marie Louise of Parma, and he met the Duke of Wellington when he was a mature diplomatist. He knew all the kings and queens of a social world which is now extinct as the dodo. He danced at the royal court of Naples, dined on board the ship that took Napoleon's remains from St. Helena to Paris.

The count was made an Italian senator in 1911. He is not rich but has fortune enough to live in quiet luxury. Though he has had proposals by the score he has never married.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—

For the life of me.

I cannot understand.

Why New York has so many.

Bored looking women.

You see them riding.

Around in carriages.

And limousines.

In the public parks.

And on the avenue.

And at the opera.

And their main business.

In life, it seems.

Is just to look bored.

And they are generally.

Uglier than all get-out.

And they are daunted.

And smeared with paint.

And carry forgotten.

And the few times.

That they try to snail.

You would think.

They had just tasted.

A sour fish or something.

And when they see.

A pretty young girl.

They lift their forgotten.

As much as to say.

What an awful creature.

And when they meet anyone.

That they have to speak to.

They lift a languid hand.

And look exactly like.

They had just swallowed.

HIS PLACE IN THE SUN

A prohibition cocktail.

Made of hair oil.

Bath salts.

Or anything lying around.

The old bathroom.

With a touch of alcohol.

Poor ephemera.

Living their little day.

Blind leading the blind.

And falling into.

The ditch of bigotry.

If they would just.

Come down off their perch.

And go to the movies.

And chew a little gum.

And play a little rum.

Or scrub the back porch.

They would soon find.

That this is indeed.

A pretty fair world.

As worlds go.

At any rate.

It's the best we got.

Clifford And Levernier Fined And Sent To Jail

"Red" Clifford was convicted on a charge of assault, and "Frenchie" Levernier was found guilty of abetting and resisting an officer at their hearing in police court last night. Mayor Kane phoned Clark with a fine of $100, and sent them to jail for 90 days each. On the application of his attorney, Luther Thompson, Clifford was given a stay of execution until his condition improves.

The charges against the two defendants grew out of a lively encounter with Officers Paul Hendry and Noah Payne on Chittenden street Sunday night and resulted from the plying of Levernier with beer for abetting Clifford's combat after he had gone on the war path and given a man named Ed McKinley, a beating at Wm. Frederick's soft drink parlor.

On Largest Tires Coming

One of the two five-ton Transcontinental Trucks operated by the Good-year Tire and Rubber Co., which made the trip from Boston to San Francisco and return, will be in Portsmouth, Ohio, on Sept. 23rd and 24th. This truck, which is equipped with 35x7 and 35x10 Inconcrete tires, made the trip from Boston to Fresno in 227 hours and returned via Los Angeles and Phoenix, Ariz., in 526 hours, making the total 7533 mile trip at an average speed of 11 miles per hour, carrying a full load all the time.

The trip was remarkable considering the hard roads covered since most of the others in the Rocky Mountain district, so narrow and full of ruts that a truck on solid tires would have been able to pull thru.

This truck should create quite a bit of interest in Portsmouth, because it will be in charge of the same show who made the trip and which tires it carried. It will be a sight to see and will be well worth a picture of this wonderful trip will show up at one of the local shows.

While here...

The truck will be in charge of W. W. Clements, local salesman, of the Home Vulcanizing Co., which is the only tire dealer in the city.
